

Acceptance of Use

Story Squad is pleased to offer its services and resources to parents and their children. By registering for an account or using the app, you confirm that you understand and accept the following terms. If you do not agree with the following terms of service, you and your children should not use Story Squad. We may immediately terminate your access to Story Squad if you fail to comply with any provision of these terms.

Term Changes

The following terms may occasionally be updated at Story Squad's discretion. Should Story Squad's ('our') Terms of Service change, we (Story Squad) will make every reasonable effort to notify you and to obtain your continued consent. We suggest that you review these terms on a regular basis to ensure that you still understand and accept their contents. By continuing to use the app, you are agreeing to and accepting any amendments.

Account Access and Security

A Story Squad account may consist of two kinds of users: the designated Parental User - who must be a legal adult in accordance with the laws of their jurisdiction - and a child or children of whom the Parental User has legal guardianship. It is the responsibility of you, the Parental User, to maintain the confidentiality of your password and other account information that you provide by not sharing this information with others. You are expected to take reasonable measures to maintain your own confidentiality and to promptly notify us of any unauthorized use of your Story Squad account.

By creating an account, you agree that any information you provide is accurate and up-to-date. You also agree not to impersonate or misrepresent your identity or affiliation with anyone else's identity. We reserve the right to verify the accuracy of information you provide.

Our Intellectual Property

All text, graphics, photographs, illustrations, prompts, logos, animations, videos, sounds, music, artwork, computer code, likenesses, and the arrangements thereof, as well as all other forms of content defined in U.S. law as 'Intellectual Property' created by Story Squad (hereafter referred to as 'our content') is protected by U.S. and international copyright, trademark, and IP rights to the fullest extent of the law. By using the website, and subject to your strict compliance with these terms and subscription fees, we offer you a limited, non-exclusive, revocable, non-assignable and nontransferable license to access, display, view, and use our content as necessary to participate in the Story Squad service. No part of our content may be used outside of our services without our express, written consent. You do not own our content, and you are not authorized to modify, distribute, upload, post, publicly display, or otherwise use our content in ways not covered by these terms.

Your Intellectual Property

In order to participate in Story Squad, children must submit creative content including fictional handwritten stories (hereafter referred to as 'your content'). All content submitted by users is the intellectual property of that user, in so much as it does not infringe upon our intellectual property or the intellectual property of other entities. By uploading to Story Squad, you affirm that your content was not created, copyrighted, or trademarked by another person. Plagiarized content will immediately be removed and the account placed under review.

By uploading your content to Story Squad, you grant us a limited, nonexclusive, revocable, worldwide license to use, store, copy, and display your content for the purposes of facilitating the user's participation on the Story Squad platform, which includes having your content featured on a nightly livestream. You may revoke this permission at any time by changing your settings on your dashboard or contacting us at the email below. Please be aware that revocation of this license on your part may require us to terminate your account.

Prohibited Uses

We may monitor, screen, modify, and remove your content at any time in order to conform to these terms, remove content we deem offensive, and/or protect the privacy of our users. Users are prohibited from spamming, copyright infringement, including personal identifying details in their creative content submissions, or collecting data without authorization, and users will be held accountable for their actions and conduct when using this app.

The subject matter of all content, both ours and yours, is understood to be fictional in nature. Any similarities to real world events are purely coincidental.

Account Termination

If a user decides to delete their account, explain step-by-step how they are to do it.

Story Squad reserves the right to terminate or suspend accounts of users who violate the terms and conditions at our discretion.

General Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability

Our services and content are provided on an 'as is', 'as available' basis with all faults. We make no representation or warranty of any kind, express or implied, about the functionality or fitness for a particular purpose of the site, app, service, or content therein. Your access to and use of our site, app, and service are at your sole risk.

By using the site or service you understand and agree that, to the fullest extent permissible by law, Story Squad is not responsible or liable for damages of any kind related to your use or inability to use the service, errors or omissions on the part of either party, or a child user's performance on the platform.

We have made every reasonable effort to account for common situations in the terms above. However, some situations may not be covered. We reserve the right to take any and all action on your account and content, at our discretion.

Contacting Us

For any questions or concerns regarding these terms, please do not hesitate to contact us at admin@storysquad.education.